The Canadian Public Procurement Council (CPPC) invites you to join the public procurement community for its 21st Annual Forum. The Forum will take place in Toronto, Ontario at the Hyatt Regency Toronto from November 3 to 6, 2019. Our theme is “Transitioning to Strategic Procurement” and the Forum program is currently under development. Workshops with actual take-a-ways for participants to bring back to their office will be designed to bring fresh perspectives and new ideas.

In addition to the three-day conference program of presentations on leading initiatives in the public procurement community, the CPPC will host a Product and Services Expo on November 4 and 5 for private-sector suppliers to government.

What is the Canadian Public Procurement Council?

The CPPC is the leading voice for professionals involved in public procurement in Canada. Our members are organizations at the federal, provincial/territorial, and municipal levels of government, and in both the health care and education sectors and Crown Corporations. We support the public procurement community across Canada by promoting dialogue, facilitating information exchanges, developing approaches to common issues, and providing leadership for the resolution of shared challenges.

Who attends the Canadian Public Procurement Forum?

The Forum attracts over 150 delegates and speakers from across the country, where decision makers in public procurement come to network, share leading practices and find collaborative partners for moving forward within the profession. Government suppliers and service providers can forge working relationships with key decision makers and the individuals who are directly involved in strategic supply chain management!

Why you should attend CPPC Forum 2019?

The Forum provides the private sector supply community with a unique environment in which to meet and network with public sector procurement professionals. The Forum will deliver many benefits to your organization:

- You'll be present when important public procurement issues are being discussed by the people who decide and select leading edge solutions;
- Your organization will be front and center receiving enhanced exposure to key public procurement practitioners;
- You can engage in discussions with key government decision makers and individuals involved in strategic supply chain management building a foundation for mutual understanding.

We gratefully recognize that the support of private-sector companies as partners in the Forum increases our ability to provide a leading-edge conference experience for our public procurement community.

Take advantage of the marketing opportunities through your presence and profile at Forum 2019.

Marketing Opportunities

Breakfast/Lunch, Keynotes, Workshops and Presentations

We enjoy bringing our delegates “food for thought” throughout our program. Your support in bringing expertise from the corporate supply sector that is thought-provoking and relevant is appreciated.

Networking Refreshment Breaks

Our delegates enjoy sharing observations and ideas with their colleagues from across the country and across public procurement sectors. Provide them with tea, coffee and cookies to keep their sugar level up for this valuable exchange.

Forum 2019 Gala Dinner

Your support of the dinner on November 4 including the evening’s entertainment is a high profile recognition and appreciation for the pressures of the day and the value of relaxing.

Product and Service Expo

Join us on, Monday evening, November 4 in the exhibit hall as we host a wine and cheese reception just before the Gala dinner and again on the following Tuesday morning, as we continue valuable display and dialogue with delegates at lunch. This year’s edition of our Product and Service Expo will once again take place in a dedicated floor space with increased time compared to previous years. The wine and cheese reception on Monday, refreshment break and lunch on Tuesday will be served in the Expo room maximizing your opportunities to meet with participants. Join our delegates who are globally responsible for over 16 billion dollars in spending and provide information on products and services your company offers to support their operations. Space is limited for this opportunity.

Contact us now to discuss the marketing opportunities for your company at the Forum 2019.
